SYMPTOMS OF ILL HEALTH DAILY OBSERVATION AND ABSENCE DUE TO ILLNESS

Record symptoms indicative of ill health and notify parents. The child may need to be given immediate medical attention. If parents are unable to take the child home, it is necessary to have the child examined by a qualified medical practitioner or nurse registered under the Health Disciplines Act.

Symptoms indicative of ill health may include elevated temperature, pallor, flushing, vomiting, diarrhea, red or discharging eyes or ears, undiagnosed skin rashes, acute colds with nasal discharge, or coughing, unusual irritability, fussiness, or listlessness, lice (pediculosis) and scabies.

Complete a separate form for each child.
